com_ariquizlite is "ARI Quiz Lite", not "ARI Quiz". You can see the following folders that see how existing questions work that create your new question type:

/administrator/components/com_ariquizlite/kernel/Entity/_QuestionEntity/

/administrator/components/com_ariquizlite/templates/questions/

/administrator/components/com_ariquizlite/templates/statistics/

/components/com_arquizlite/view/questions/

Re:Reg New question Type adding in quiz

Run the following SQL query:

```
INSERT INTO `jos_arquizquestiontype` (`QuestionTypeId`, `QuestionType`, `ClassName`, `Default`, `CanHaveTemplate`, `TypeOrder`) VALUES
(5,'New question type',"0,0,0,0)
ON DUPLICATE KEY UPDATE QuestionTypeId=QuestionTypeId;

where is question class name.

Re:Reg New question Type adding in quiz

You can add validators in the following file:

/administrator/components/com_ariquizlite/templates/question_add.html.php or in file for new question type.

If you want to disable questions validator, remove the following code in question_add.html.php file:

aris.validators.validatorManager.addValidator(
    new aris.validators.customValidator('zQuiz',
        function(val)
            var isValid = true;

            var value = val.getValue();
            isValid = (value && value.replace(/\s+|\s+$|/g, "").length > 0);

            return isValid;
        {emptyValidate : true, errorMessage : ''});

aris.validators.validatorManager.addValidator(
    new aris.validators.requiredValidator('tbxScore', {errorMessage : ''});

You can check class name of your question and add or not validator to the page. $className PHP variable is available on this page. You can use something like this:

Adopt new question type class for your needs, but take into account it requires some knowledge of PHP. Class name should be the same with value of column 'ClassName' in #__ariquizquestiontype.

Hi,

I realized that in this thread you added a new question type that uploads an image.
I want to add a new question type too. But I have a big problem!
I'm a newbie :blush: and I don't understand the codes.
Will you provide me your code, so I can embed that in my project?
I just want user to upload a mp3 file and admin downloads it and give the appropriate grade to it.
Thanks in advance.
