
Single page test, correct answers in the end?

Posted by Iskander1985 - 2015/12/28 14:49

Hello ARI,

I wish to try ARI Quiz Lite on my blog, yet have got a couple of questions:

1. I want a simple test with all questions on a single page and submit button at the bottom. Is that possible with ARI Quiz Lite? I mean there is no necessity in time count or even number of questions left to answer etc. So can all these be removed too? If yes, how can this be achieved?
2. Is it possible to reveal not just "Passed" and percentage in the end, but also show all correct/incorrect answers to a person who took the test? If yes, what are the steps?

THANK YOU very much!

Hello,

Both of these features are supported by "ARI Quiz", but they are not supported by "ARI Quiz Lite".

"ARI Quiz Lite" shows one question per page and doesn't show current and incorrect answers at the end of a quiz. It can show different text templates at the end of a quiz with total score, earned score, elapsed time and etc.

Regards,
ARI Soft
