
Need more result categories than pass and fail

I am new to this forum.

Thanks for developing a wonderful extension.

I would like to use ARI Quiz Lite to create a screening questionnaire in my site. What I understood after exploring AQL for some time is that the test takers can be divided only into two groups based on the cut off I set as "Passed Score". I am curious to know if there is any way I can divide the test takers into three groups using two cut off marks. (The screening questionnaire I plan to use will divide the test takers into three different groups with mild, moderate and severe degrees of a disorder.)

Thanks in advance.

Hello,

This feature requires custom development.
