Maybe you can help me? What is to change in the slider.css?

Hello,

thanks for the mail, it works fine. But is it possible to bring the transparent background image (active_bg.png) to overflow the thumbnail image?

Many thanks in advance.

Create thumbnails with transparent background. PNG and GIF formats are supported this ability.

Hello, I'd like to do the same. I have changed the size of the images to be 50 px tall and the slider.css but it did not have any effect on the height. The panel bar and the width have the desired size, though. My website is racinnexus.co.

Hello,

Could you specify what changes you did (what CSS rules change/add) and provide an image where we can see what's wrong?

I changed some of the size values in the template.css file. For example where it said 45px for height i changed it to 50. I did not add anything.

In the image you can see how the thumbnails are wider but not taller and do not fill the panel.

Try to add the following CSS rules to a site template CSS file:

```
BODY .ari_slider .ari_slider_menu UL LI
{
  height: 60px;
  width: 80px;
}
```

```
BODY .ari_slider .ari_slider_menu UL LI A
```

---

```
{
  height: 50px;
}
```

```
BODY .ari_slider .ari_slider_menu
{
  height: 60px;
}
```

and modify the following images to appropriate sizes:

/modules/mod_arislider/includes/js/img/active_bg.png

/modules/mod_arislider/includes/js/img/panel.jpg
