
.ini file for image links

Posted by pelyon - 2016/12/30 19:29

Hi,

I placed an .ini file to enable a link from certain images (see attached).I placed the file in the same directory as the image files, yet the images aren't linking. Is there a step I am missing? Is the file formatted correctly? Thanks for your assistance.

-Pelyon

=====

Re: .ini file for image links

Posted by pelyon - 2016/12/30 19:31

Here is the .ini file text. Thx.

```
bread.jpg="This is a bread"
coffee.jpg="A cup of coffee"
pic.png="Sample image"
```

```
guesthouse-purple-banner-home.jpg="http://piccino.com/book"
a-holiday_party_web_slide.72_opt.jpg="http://piccino.com/book"
```

```
coffee.jpg="Coffee"
pic.png="Image"
```

=====

Re: .ini file for image links

Posted by admin - 2016/12/30 19:36

Hello,

Could you provide a link to a page with the slider? Is parse_ini_file PHP function is enabled on your hosting?

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====

Re: .ini file for image links

Posted by pelyon - 2016/12/30 21:36

HI, I spoke with GoDaddy and they said the parse_ini_file function is not enabled on any of their servers as doing so would open them up to an unacceptable level of hacking risk. Is there any other way I can link the images? Thanks!

Here is the page with the slider.

<http://piccino.com>

-Pelyon

=====

Re: .ini file for image links

Posted by admin - 2016/12/31 13:12

Update the module to v. 2.2.2. It should help.

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====