
Pre-Sale Question

Posted by intelllicents - 2011/04/01 21:18

I'm simply wanting to create a link on my main menu that will open up a page on my site.

Is this possible?

The link will open a page with just a little information about business hours.

Hello,

"ARI Sexy Lightbox" package contains "System - ARI Sexy Links" plugin which provides ability to attach the lightbox to any HTML element (including menu items), but it requires a little knowledge of CSS selectors. We can also help you to configure the plugin.
