Use "onCloseMessage" attribute. The code will look like:

```
{arisexylightbox activeType="icontent" width="300" height="300" showOnClose="1" link="" onCloseMessage="my message"}
```

Test content

```
{/arisexylightbox}
```

You can show any HTML code in the lightbox. For example use the next code:

```
{arisexylightbox activeType="icontent" width="300" height="300" showOnClose="1" link="" onCloseMessage="my message"}
```

Test content

```
{/arisexylightbox}
```

Where LINK_TO_IMAGE is link to image.

If you mean alert box which is shown by a browser, it is not possible to show image in it. The browsers support ability to set only simple text for this alert box.

Here is what alert box on exit in FF:

This page is asking you to confirm that you want to leave - data you have entered may not be saved.

Hello,

This is feature of FF 4. It doesn't provide ability to change this message. You can read about it here.
