Is there a way to display a sexylightbox that has a link within it that will open an article, module, internal or external page to display in the same or another lightbox? I would really like to have the lightbox content replaced by selecting an appropriate link from within the same lightbox. Thanks

Hello,

If an external page (an article) is loaded into the lightbox and a user clicks by a link from loaded page, it will be loaded into the lightbox.

But this feature doesn't work for module and inline content.
