Hello,

Do you want to configure "ARI Sexy Lightbox" module to show image gallery when a user clicks by an image or you mean something another?

I want the following: Clicking on or hovering over an image in an article should open a lightbox that displays a module. I've tried the following but it doesn't work

```
{arisexylightbox activeType="module" width="500" height="500" id="112" title="Deutsche Post"}{/arisexylightbox}

Sorry, but could you explain what do you mean under "it doesn't work"? You see nothing instead of a link image or you see a link image but when click by it the lightbox doesn't appear? Where we can see a problem?

As I am not sure that my quick reply went off, here once again:

The lightbox appears, but there is only a square instead of the image. The path is correct. I used this code:

```
{arisexylightbox activeType="module" width="500" height="500" id="121" title="Deutsche Post" link="

If you use a WYSIWYG editor, switch it to plain text mode and enter the next code:

{arisexylightbox activeType="module" width="500" height="500" id="121" title="Deutsche Post"}{link}/{link}/{arisexylightbox}

I use IE 9, look at <http://www.mathnawi.de/ee/index.php/de/referenzen-de> , click on one of the logos or the text near them

When we click by "Deutsche Post" image or a text link in IE 9 (native and compatible mode), the lightbox appears. Could you explain what problem you have?

Try to clean browser's cache, it works fine on our side.

Cache emptying didn't help. I tried it on another computer, and it worked. So this is not a problem of your software, thanks for the help
