As you can see on my site a lot os errors are comming up like:
Deprecated: Assigning the return value of new by reference is deprecated in /home/users/ahvasftp/ahvassen.nl/modules/mod_arisexylightbox/includes/kernel/Flickr/phpFlickr.php on line 90

Deprecated: Assigning the return value of new by reference is deprecated in

The code I used: {arisexylightbox activeType="flickr" source="photoset" thumbSize="thumbnail" photosetId="72157625324803858"}{/arisexylightbox}

PHP 5.3.2-1 is installed.
On a other server with php 5.2.9 it is working perfectly.
Could that be something??

What to do?

Hello,

These errors appear only in PHP 5.3.0+ because since this version PHP developers mark some PHP methods as deprecated. We'll provide update that fix this issue within 2 hours.

Wow, that was a quick reply :) Thank you.
I did the upgrade but now still have the last 4 errors on the page.

These errors appear because "PEAR" which is installed on your server contain deprecated PHP calls and causes errors in PHP 5.3+. "PEAR" is located by the following path:

/usr/share/php/

You can see by error message that file not from "ARI Sexy Lightbox" causes there errors:

/usr/share/php/HTTP/Request.php

You can contact your hosting provider support that they fix this problem.

I was able to go back to PHP 5.2. Now it is running well and they can look for the solution for running it with 5.3.
Cheers :)
