I want to have a Facebook "I Like" button when People use the lightbox so they can share the image with friends in their network, is this possible?

Hello,

No, it is impossible, but if you describe this feature in more details we will think about implementation this ability in a future release. Do you want to display this button into lightbox? Should this button provide HTML code which will be embedded in another site?

Simple:

When u open a picture with the sexy likebox, I mean there will be a button which allows you to share an image or url to a social media. Similar to the way its possible to share a blogpost or a news article.
