
Change position of the \"close\"-link

Posted by subster - 2010/06/05 08:16

Hi there,

at the moment we can find the "close"-link for the window in the right bottom. I want it in the upper right corner, and with a small "X" - gif before. Where can i set this up?

Thank you so much!

One thing - but i don't know if this issue is specific to you extension: if i write an (linked) e-mail into the boxes content, everything disappears.

p.s.: I wrote a review at the jed a week ago, but it has not been released till now :(

Hello,

Could you say what theme you use that we can try to help change position of close button? Regarding problem with email, it seems this problem with 'Content - Email Cloak' plugin, this plugin work in simple content, but in dynamic content it works ugly. We suppose if you disable 'Content - Email Cloak' plugin, everything will work fine.

PS: Thanks for a review and don't worry about it, probably JED administrators on vacation :)

One note about close button, if you want to show it at the top of right corner, you can add the following CSS rule to template CSS file:

#colorbox #cboxClose
  top: 0;
  right: 0;
}
```
