
License useable for localhost?

Posted by spirit66 - 2011/02/02 06:00

Hi,

as I read that I can use ARI PrettyPhoto only for 1 domain I would like to know how it works if I develop/maintain the site on my Laptop with localhost and then move it to the server with the real domainadress. Do I always have to change the license and jump between localhost and server? I want to maintain the website on my Laptop and upload the changes to the server after I know my work was ok.

Thanks
Rudolf Aigner

=====

Re:License useable for localhost?

Posted by admin - 2011/02/02 07:28

Hello,

"ARI Pretty Photo" is under GNU GPL license, open source and can be used for any number of domains.

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====

Re:License useable for localhost?

Posted by spirit66 - 2011/02/02 10:10

Hi,

that's fine but I read this in FAQ topic 4
Licenses work for one domain only. If you want to use the product on another domain you need additional purchase for that.

How should I understand this?
Thanks
Rudolf Aigner

=====

Re:License useable for localhost?

Posted by admin - 2011/02/02 10:13

This restriction only for our extensions which are not under GNU GPL license ("ARI Quiz", "ARI Smart Content" and "ARI Scroller").

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====

Re:License useable for localhost?

Posted by spirit66 - 2011/02/02 10:34

Hi,

so I know now. Thanks a lot for the good support.

Regards

Rudolf Aigner

=====

License useable for localhost?

Posted by snoeby - 2011/07/15 04:01

I would like to come back to this question, because I do have a ARI Smart Content which I would like to use on my localhost (notebook) for developing purposes. I also have one extra production license left, but just would like to know how exactly I can use this license on my localhost.

Let's say I have a test environment with xampp where I use several joomla installations on in the htdocs folder (e.g. "testwebsite1", "testwebsite2" etc.) Can I now simply enter "localhost" in the domain field of the license or do I have to specify the folder of the test website (i.e. the root folder of the relevant joomla installation on my test environment, i.e. "localhost/testwebsite1"?

Thanks for the clarification, kr, rene

=====

Re:License useable for localhost?

Posted by admin - 2011/07/15 04:43

Hello,

If necessary we can provide additional license for "localhost" domain and it will work for all-subfolder (localhost/website1 and etc.).

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====

Re:License useable for localhost?

Posted by snoeby - 2011/07/15 23:16

would be great if you can provide me with an additional license for "localhost" so I can test ari smart also when developing new sites on my notebook.

=====

Re:License useable for localhost?

Posted by admin - 2011/07/16 07:33

Check your mail please.

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====

Re:License useable for localhost?

Posted by snoeby - 2011/07/16 12:30

that's really great customer support! thx a lot! much appreciated.

=====