
problem in firefox when you reload the web

Posted by whiskises - 2010/10/10 08:24

Hi.

The Ari Image slideshows working properly, IE8 and firefox ok,... until you reload the page, then IE8 continues to work well but firefox stops working. How I can fix it?

Thanks.

Hello,

Do you mean ARI Image SliderShow or ARI Image Slider? Could you provide link to page where we can see the issue?

I mean Ari Image Slider. But i've solved it, installing ie8_compatibility_1.5 plugin, don't ask me how it do it, but all the problem with the reload page has disappeared, including firefox. thanks for the quick reply and for this modules and components.

I'm having the same problem. When I try to re-load the page in firefox, I only see the first image and the page title. The image title and the controls don't re-load and the auto transition to the next image doesn't work. But when I ask someone else to check it in firefox, they were able to see everything. A few hours later, it was fine.

It would help to know if this is a big problem since I don't want my site visitors to have this problem when the site goes live.
