
ARI quizincontnet plugin problem

Posted by saeedgh - 2011/05/31 03:43

hello ,
the new version of the ARI quizincontnet plugin does not work properly . It change the code on saving in the editor and the quiz does not load .

it replaces with an iframe code .

please can anyone share us the version that is running in the ARI demo site on this page ?

<http://www.demo2.ari-soft.com/ari-quiz-in-joomla-article.html>

maybe this version is working properly .

the latest version is on this page :
<http://sites.google.com/site/myhut32/>

but I need version 1.2 or 1.1 .

Regards
Saeed

I,m using ARIquizliteincontent .
I posted my question in wrong category .
but I tested the ariquizincontent too .
the two plugin have the same problem and change the code on saving and on loading .

what can be the problem ?

My solution is that first I turn off the plugin I insert the code then I turn on the plugin and the plugin work .

but my project users which is under development on localhost want to use the plugin so I should correct the problem .

can anyone post the previous versions of the two plugins?

maybe one of them is correct , so I can change and correct the other one .

AS we know the latest version of "ARI Quiz Lite in Content" plugin is v. 1.0.0. It is 3rd party plugin and you can contact plugin's developer that resolve the problem or you can provide link to page where we can see it and we will investigate the problem.

can you attach the version that you are using on you demo page ?

<http://www.demo2.ari-soft.com/ari-quiz-in-joomla-article.html>

I want to read the source code and compare the two files using a compare software to see the differences , then maybe I can solve the problem , unfortunately my project is under developement on localhost .

Ok , thanks for the reply .

I can not post on the developer blog , because blogspot service is filtered in my country . So I can not report the bug to the developer . :(

can anyone here report the bug to the developer using blogspot comments ?
