Order by category when fetching questions

_____

I have 5 categories with around 40 questions in the bank for each one.

The test will have 75 questions and i want the component to sort 15 questions from each category, but displaying questions following a category order (not mixing questions from different categories when passing to the next question).

Is that possible?

Hello,

You can use for this purpose 'Question Catetories'. For example, create 5 question categories for this quiz and set 'Question Count' to 15, populate quiz with bank questions and select needed questions categories for questions, uncheck 'Random Question' option in quiz settings.

I did this but i think it is not working.

The test will have 75 questions. This is configured in quiz settings and then i add the questions to the quiz (from bank). If the number of questions added to the quiz is exact 75, it follows the order. If i add another one (76), it starts to display the questions in random order, even if the Random Order setting in quiz is set to false.

Any ideas?

We'll check this and report about result tomorrow. If the component contains bug, we'll fix it ASAP.

Thank you!
