Test Question Results Graph?
Posted by The Cheadle Academy - 2016/11/20 13:21
_____

Hi,

As you know I love the module. I was wondering if it would be possible to add something into the console in the admin area where you could review the performance of everyone who has taken the quiz, question by question?

For example q1) you could see a bar chart of the average number of marks that all users get who take the quiz and so on.

Also taking this further could users be assigned / placed into groups. Then you could review this performance question by question for each group against the average.

Or even better I guess when the user gets to review their performance of each question. They can see their marks, compared to the overall average for each question. I really think this would be a fantastic addition, however not sure how easy / complex it would be to create?

============================================================================

Re:Test Question Results Graph?
Posted by admin - 2016/11/21 07:30
_____

Hello,

We are going to add improved statistics and analytics to "ARI Quiz" v. 4.x. Unfortunately currently we don't say an exact date when it will be ready.

Regards,
ARI Soft

============================================================================

Re:Test Question Results Graph?
Posted by The Cheadle Academy - 2016/11/21 20:04
_____

OK sounds good. Hoping it will not be too long away as so many good things sound like they are happening in v.4

============================================================================

Re:Test Question Results Graph?
Posted by Beekeeper - 2018/02/03 20:33
_____

It would really add value to be able to show average results for a list of questions. Any news on the proceedings of this added functionality? Or is there any other way to present an overview of average questions results to my students in class? Even better would be enhanced live streaming functionality i.e. to be able to show live average results to students after each question (e.g. on beamer).

============================================================================

Re:Test Question Results Graph?
Posted by admin - 2018/02/04 09:29
_____

Hello,

All new big features are postponed till "ARI Quiz" v. 4.x is released. We are working on new version of the plugin for WordPress then we are going to adapt it for Joomla!

Regards,
ARI Soft

====================================================================