Overwrite Question Instead Create New When Edit

Dear AriTeam,

Is it possible to include your extensions the options can choose whether overwrite the question in database there or create new row after edit the question because what i know is every time i edit my question it gonna create new row after save in database table (ariquizquestionversion) section there.

If i edit 10 times, so 10 row will be create. What i need is just overwrite the question in database table without use new row to save updated question.

Hello,

The extension saves new record when a question is changed to support versioning and have ability to see correct version in quiz results. The component doesn't support ability to disable it.

We will improve this functionality in "ARI Quiz" v. 4.x. It will replace the previous record if it is not used in quiz results.
