
real time quiz

hi

i can see that your product dose not have real time quiz..

ill try to explain how this works

(i have seen it in iRC channels and it's very popular) every1 connect to chat room and the chat generates questions the users can give correct answer typing the answer (that's on irc but i belive for joomla platform it can be done more sophisticated like choosing an answer from given menu from the component) this is very popular and very much competative .. this is what people want to..

so it would be very very very powerful quiz component if you had this..

consider this as an idea for upgrading your quiz into whole another level note: if you start working on this... mm consider the integration with other popular components such as jomsocial, community builder etc..

thanks

(tell me if you like the idea and if some1 else need this as well) ... i need it badly

Hello,

The component can select necessary number of questions in random order from quiz questions set. It seems this ability it the same as you described.

no it's not..

what i am talking about is:

one room where all users will be conected (as on irc channel - and it dosen't need to have the ability to chat with others BUT!!

A question comes out in the room.. all the people that playes the quiz reads the question in the same time... so this works a bit like a chat.. and the FASTEST correct answer given is the winning answer.

here is more info on iRC trivia bot.. works in this way, you could find more info on it an youtube example of irc quiz and if this is implemented in website... will be idd really popular.. since it will be much more sophisticated.
