Hello,

Do you want to embed quiz into a Joolmla! article or to a remote site?

You can use link in the following format for element:

`index.php?option=com_ariquiz&view=quiz&quizId=1&tmpl=component`

Just specify the desired quiz ID.

Many thanks,

If my normal link is below...

https://shippingcollege.co.uk/index.php?option=com_ariquiz&view=quiz&quizId=144

Would I be correct in embedding it as follows:

https://shippingcollege.co.uk/index.php?option=com_ariquiz&view=quiz&quizId=1441&tmpl=component

I have added the iframe code to my website (see below) but the exam is now not saving the answers and after you save the quiz it says "The selected exam is not available, please contact your e-Tutor" but I don't have any restrictions on this exam?

Secondly and more importantly ... it is not saving the answers and also not saving the end time and date, this shows as empty.

Please assist urgently.

I have just picked up that on my Firefox browser the program saves the exam results however on the Chrome browser it is giving me the below issue.

This is an issue for all my students as well. Even though I have cleared my cache in Chrome it still persists.

How can we fix this please.

Your HTML code is incorrect. It should be:

Please compare it with your code. If you use a WYSIWYG editor, try to switch it to plain text mode and correct the code.

Thank you I have updated this. It is showing the font type correctly now.

Chrome Browser - Unfortunately the exam is still not saving the answers and after you save the quiz it says "The selected exam is not available, please contact your e-Tutor" but I don't have any restrictions on this exam?

Secondly and more importantly ... it is not saving the answers and also not saving the end time and date, this shows as empty on the results screen.

Firefox Browser - I have tried this on a Firefox browser and the program saves the exam results and provides the exam results on the screen. So working perfectly.

Please assist urgently.

Could you provide a link to a page where the problem occurs?

Please use the login I provided for the other query on font size

<https://www.shippingcollege.com/login>

I even downloaded another browser Opera and had the same issue as Chrome.

The exam only shows the results and saves the results after you click the back button on the browser, there seems to be a loading trigger issue.

See attached screen shots.

Please could you look at this for me. https://www.ari-soft.com/images/fbfiles/images/Ari_3.png

I have received the below from my hosting website

"After liaising with my team, we would suggest that you reach out your program developer to create a new code or polish up the code so that it would be compatible with all Browsers"

Could you provide a link to a page where this code with IFRAME is used so we have ability investigate the issue? It works fine when we insert this code into an empty HTML file.

Many thanks this works well in that I can scroll to the right to see complete the form and it questions wrap, just that is now cuts off the question number, see attached https://www.ari-soft.com/images/fbfiles/images/ariquiz_question_no.jpg

Re:Embed Code

Posted by Kim Tabori - 2023/10/01 16:02

Just checked the computer view and it also drops the question number here, see attached https://www.ari-soft.com/images/fbfiles/images/ariquiz_question_no-a880da1b3d20c88ccd7fad77ec25ab7c.jpg

Re:Embed Code

This is a problem with custom styles for quiz component. Add the following CSS rule to a site template CSS file on site where quiz component is hosted:

body #ariQuizContainer .aq-question-title {
  min-width: 80px;
