Hello, i have bought a special theme from envato and i'm trying to collect user data in aris' free version. But even if i've logged in it shows to me email and username inputs end of the quiz. I've checked collect user data, ask username and ask e-mail on the settings. Is there a anyway to collect logged users data directly? It is important for me please help me best regards.

Hello,

Is it suitable for your needs if form fields will be populated with name/email of currently logged user by default?
