
Adding a variable to email template - encryption

Posted by castus - 2009/01/12 12:14

Is there any need to encrypt almost every file in the component?

I have added a phone number to my normal sign up process. So I would like to add this to the emailed results, so I can then call the person who did the quiz. Problem is I can't find the file where these variables are handled, and everything is encrypted.

Any chance of you letting me know which files to edit, and sending me unencrypted version of these?

=====

Re:Adding a variable to email template - encryption

Posted by admin - 2009/01/12 13:33

Currently you can edit text templates for ARI Quiz in Joomla! back-end. There are number of variables that can be added to templates. Unfortunately, there is no phone number variable.

There are two options:

1. You can order custom development. In this case please contact us by email.
2. We can send you the file. But in case of changing this file yourself we will not be able to help you with future updates and will not be responsible in case of any issues.

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====

Re:Adding a variable to email template - encryption

Posted by castus - 2009/01/12 13:38

Can you send me the file please, so I can create a new variable.

Thanks,
Gary

=====

Re:Adding a variable to email template - encryption

Posted by admin - 2009/01/12 14:48

We've sent you the file by email.

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====

Re:Adding a variable to email template - encryption

Posted by castus - 2009/01/12 15:02

I have managed to getting working as I wanted.

Thanks.

=====