
Option NOT to display module in articles

Posted by 6degrees - 2012/02/20 19:22

I've seen this in other modules.

Would it be possible to have an option to NOT display the module when in an article ?

Currently, when a user selects the "readmore" link, the module still displays and this causes a bit of a design problem as it's not quite clear to tell if the readmore was loaded or not since I am using this module on top of the content zone.

Let me know if this is possible,

Thanks
Danny

Do you want to hide the module if loaded an article from a slider or remove this article from a slider?
