"ARI Easy Slider" v. 1.3.0 is ready. It contains new parameter "Items per page". This parameter provides ability to specify how many items should be shown per page.

I have installed it the steps and the number of items per page are the same it will be good to use a different number (if needed) , step could be = 1 but items per pages = 4

I did not know if you could do it in time so I did mine with jQuery --> <http://juventis.ymalaya.com/>

It shows 4 items with fading effect but the steps (the jumps) = 1 if I click next or preview
I can add a parameter to get the values I want to show , if you click a colored circle you get only one category, on the front page you get all of course your component is more complete , but it will be a great feature to make step items per pages

Sorry, but your original feature request was:

it will be good to display more than one article at the same time

New version provides ability to specify how many items should be shown at the same time.

yes of course , but I thought next and prev will go steps 1 by 1

it could be in another version some day ? :-)

thank you anyway

We will think about implementation of this ability, but we can not promise that it will be done in the near future. Hope for your understanding.
