
Auto-sizing of the Module

Posted by JPR - 2011/06/11 09:52

Hi forum,

please excuse this beginner question, but is it possible to configure the ARI Easy slider so that the modules does an auto-size functionality?

To make it more clear:

I use it below my menu, and it looks fine in a fullscreen browser window.

Now, when I resize my browser window to let's say 1/3 of the screens width, then the menu shrinks automatically to 1/3 of its standard size, but the ARI Easy slider keeps its size (px width) and thus looms into the text content....

Is there a way to fix this?

Thanks,

Jens
