Using Charts and Tables in SlideShow

Posted by kefford - 2015/06/22 23:33
_____

Hi,

I am wondering how one would add the charts or tables from ARI Data Tables in a slideshow module. I know how to place the module at a template position on the page and in an article, but how do I put it inside a slideshow or carousel module? My thought is to have ARI generate live charts and have them cycle through a slideshow. I tried putting in an article then putting the article in the slideshow, but the chart is not drawn.

I also thought that something like Modules Anywhere might help, but found that installing and enabling that extension caused other modules to stop working.

Any suggestions?

Ken

==

Re:Using Charts and Tables in SlideShow

Posted by kefford - 2015/06/22 23:56
_____

Reviewing your site further let me also ask, does your ARI Smart Content extension enable one to place dynamic ARI Data Table content inside slideshow and carousel presentation elements?

==

Re:Using Charts and Tables in SlideShow

Posted by admin - 2015/06/23 05:33
_____

Hello,

It is possible to show modules into Easy Slider slider from "ARI Smart Content". The slider shows Joomla! articles and modules can be loaded into articles via "Content - Load Module.

Regards,
ARI Soft

==

Re:Using Charts and Tables in SlideShow

Posted by kefford - 2015/06/23 10:18
_____

I looked at the Easy Slider and it looks good and has lots of display formats. The demo seems to show what I am looking for, provided I can display live ARI Data Table charts inside.

So, if I buy the ARI Smart Content extension along with the ARI Data Tables module I already have I can do this?

Ken

==

Re:Using Charts and Tables in SlideShow

Posted by admin - 2015/06/23 12:04
_____

You can load "ARI Data Tables" module into the slider or "ARI Smart Content - Data Table" module.

Regards,
ARI Soft

==

Re:Using Charts and Tables in SlideShow

Posted by kefford - 2015/06/23 14:04

_____

Ok, what you suggest looks good. I see I can just get your ARI Slider and use with the ARI DataTables I already have. Or, I can get the ARI Smart Content, which includes the ARI Slider and more capability and extensions.

Is this correct, that both will achieve the same thing, but with Smart Content I am getting more of your other extensions as well?

As long as I achieve what I intend I am good, and if the ARI SmartContent does so with your other nice extensions then that sounds better. I do want to continue using ARI DataTables, that has worked very well for me.

==

Re:Using Charts and Tables in SlideShow

Posted by kefford - 2015/06/23 14:10

_____

I guess I need you to confirm that I can use the ARI Smart Content along side with ARI Data Tables. If I can seemlessly transition but get the same capability as ARI Data Tables then I will go the Smart Content route. If not, I will get your ARI Easy Slider and use with ARI Data Tables.

==

Re:Using Charts and Tables in SlideShow

Posted by admin - 2015/06/23 18:08

_____

It is possible to use "ARI Data Tables" module with "ARI Smart Content - Easy Slider". Conflict can occur only if use "ARI Data Tables" module and "ARI Smart Content - Data Table" module on the same page.

Regards,
ARI Soft

==

Re:Using Charts and Tables in SlideShow

Posted by kefford - 2015/06/23 18:18

_____

Ok, now I am really confused. Does that mean there is a difference between the "ARI Smart Content - Easy Slider" and the "ARI Easy Slider"? Why are they different? Are they not both yours? Why would the one packaged inside Smart Content need to be different at all?

What is Smart Content then, if it is not just a collection of the other useful extensions working together? What does it do differently then?

Ken

==

Re:Using Charts and Tables in SlideShow

Posted by admin - 2015/06/23 18:45

_____

"ARI Smart Content" contains a lot of addons for different purpose (tables, sliders, lightboxes and etc.). It also provides ability to show data from different sources (databases, CSV files, Joomla! and K2 articles, Picasa and Flickr services and others). Add-ons from from "ARI Smart Content" don't work without "ARI Smart Content" component. "ARI Easy Slider" module and "ARI Smart Content - Easy Slider" addon are tow different extensions which provides similar functionality. If you need only the slider and don't need all other add-ons and features which are supported by "ARI Smart Content", you can buy "ARI Easy Slider" extension.

Regards,
ARI Soft

==

Re:Using Charts and Tables in SlideShow
Posted by kefford - 2015/06/23 18:54
_____

Thank you, and at this point I am only trying to determine which I should buy. I was leaning towards the Smart Content module but your last few replies has me doubting that choice.

I guess as long as you can assure me that ARI Data Tables will work fine with the ARI Smart Content - Easy Slider then I will go that way. I doubt I will ever have cause to combine ARI Data Tables and Smart Content - Data Tables on the same page.

Do you have customers already combining ARI Data Tables with Smart Content - Easy Slider? Does the Smart Content - Data Tables have all the same capability as ARI Data Tables, should I ever decide to simply move completely to Smart Content?

==

Re:Using Charts and Tables in SlideShow
Posted by admin - 2015/06/23 18:57
_____

"ARI Smart Content - Data Table" supports all features for "ARI Data Tables -> ARI Data Table" widget plus additional features (for example it supports responsive mode and show content of some columns when "+" button is pressed).

Regards,
ARI Soft

==

Re:Using Charts and Tables in SlideShow
Posted by kefford - 2015/06/23 18:58
_____

Ok, thank you. I will proceed with the ARI Smart Content.

==