Hi

Is it possible to search on a partial field.

I have a list of marriages in the format Elizabeth Innes and James Hadden, I want to search for all instances of Elizabeth Niall

Hi

My apologies I'd picked a bad test name with too many hits.

Now that I've got that working I need some advice on the best way to do what I want.

I have 4 totally different queries and one normal page of data which I want to show as one page with a 5 position tab. There is a lot in the help file about setting up plugins with html datatables but I can't see how to use a plugin with a query. how do I use datatable plugin?

Cheers
Niall

Do you want to define an SQL query in plugin shortcode?

Hi

I don't care where the query is defined as each one is different, I have defined then as queries in the backend, now I need to display then one the page, each one in a datatable in a tab.

It seems you use "ARI Smart Content" extension, not "ARI Data Tables". "ARI Smart Content" contains Tabs add-on which creates tabbed content and it is possible to load modules with "ARI Smart Content - Data Table" type into tabs. "ARI Smart Content" modules can be loaded with help of System - ARI Smart Content - Load Module plugin.

Hi

OK got that, although I need to use the ARI tab plugin as main item as the SQL statements are completely different for each tab.
In addition I need one tab to show a normal article, but when I choose the Article button is just places a link to the article in the correct TAB. Do I have to put the article source in the tab or is there a way of showing the article not a link.

Cheers
Niall

Hello,

If you want to show an article into a tab, you can add element with link to the article or use a 3rd party plugin which can embed article into content.
