

---

default settings

Posted by kraftgroup - 2010/09/20 10:27

---

Hi,

Is there any way we can setup a default setting format for the delimiter?

As you know we're using Front-end-user-access, and even if i just go to their plugin and click the save button, it removes all the delimiter data from all the modules we've built with data tables...

Having 15 modules per client, this is going to be insane to go into every module after a single access rule has been changed and rectify every module's setting; especially after all being done we're looking at a total of 90modules...

Downtime is not an option as clients can log in at any time 24/7 and we need to have their data displayed properly...

=====

Re:default settings

Posted by admin - 2010/09/20 10:44

---

Hello,

Default module parameters is defined in module manifest file. It's located by the following path:

/modules/mod_aridatatables/mod_aridatatables.xml

See the following code in this file:

PS: You can contact Frontend-User-Access developers because this behavior looks like a bug in Frontend-User-Access.

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====