Cloud Carousel within accordion

Hello,

I am using the ARI cloud carousel within an accordion module. The accordion module shows articles with the jquery toggle effect and I included a cloud carousel into each of the articles. When clicking on the headers, the articles and also the cloud carousel get 'toggled'.

It is all working fine, but there is a little issue with IE:

There are different options for the accordion.

I can either make all articles visible on page load or only the first. Then all but the first article are closed until they get toggled.

When the site is loaded and the article is visible on page load, the cloud carousel shows fine.

But if the article is not visible on page load and the article gets toggled, the cloud carousel doesn't show correctly. Only the navigation area is shown, but no pictures.

This effect only occurs in IE, it is working fine in all other browsers.

Do you have any suggestions?

Thanks in advance
