Image display problems in IE

I am using PNG's, and they look great on Chrome and Firefox, but in IE the reflection is further from the image and adds sort of a black outline. See here: LINK

Any ideas how to fix this?

Thanks

Hello,

It works fine for us in IE 7 - 8:

What version of IE do you use? Could you provide screenshot where we can see the issue?

Actually no its not, because I replaced every pic with a photoshopped version where I added the reflection. It was the only way to get the effect to look right. You must have looked at it after the fact. Please if you know of another way, it would be helpful and less time consuming, I imagine.
