How to align portrait and landscape images

Posted by keatby - 2011/05/06 10:52

Nice module!

I have a mixture of images both portrait and landscape. At the moment it looks odd, because the landscape images are middle aligned with the portrait images. So it appears as though the landscape images are floating.

I would like to know how to align all images to the same baseline if possible.

Thanks in advance for your help.

Kind regards

Hello,

It requires custom modification of the module.

Hi

Could you post some instructions? I don't mind 'getting my hands dirty' in php or css.

Kind regards

The extension is based on Cloud Carousel jQuery plugin. It is open source and you can change it for your needs or contact plugin developer and get information about plugin implementation.
