
Assigning ARI Cloud Carousel to specific pages

Posted by atticus_ar - 2010/11/23 17:37

I have ARI Cloud Carousel installed and working, and it is assigned to show up on a specific page. I copied that module, and assigned it to another page and gave it a different directory of images relevant to that page, and no matter what, the original one is the only one that shows up on both pages. Is it possible to make ARI Cloud Carousel have multiple instances of the module that show up on different pages with different images for each module?

Hello,

This is standard Joomla! feature and it doesn't depend on module. If you provide temporary access to your Joomla! backend by email, we can investigate this problem.
