
How do you keep the Ari Layer transparent on load

Posted by itman - 2018/10/29 13:15

I need to create a slider which comes in over a background image so I need it to be completely transparent on load.

I have changed all background formatting inside the Ari Slider to transparent but it is still showing as loading white over the image and then going transparent after.

Please advise on how to change this so that it is always completely transparent.

many thanks

Hello,

Could you provide a link to a page with the slider where the problem occurs? You can send it by email.
