
API integration with mailerlite

Posted by tsecher - 2017/08/15 17:24

Hi there,

Would it be possible to move the test result to mailerlite along with the users email? We are doing a personality test and would like to setup drip email campaigns depending of what type of person the subscriber is.

Hello,

Currently it is not possible, but we will improve integration with email marketing services in a future release and add ability to send quiz result to have ability use segmentation for subscribers.

Sounds fantastic. Do you have any idea of when in time you will do that? Also SendGrid integration would be amazing but I prefer you focus on a deeper integration with mailerlite first ;)

We will try to release it within a month. BTW, the plugin can be integrated with SendGrid service via Zapier.

So will this ever be launched?
I'm still waiting for the update to send segmented emails :/
