Multiple correct answers for trivia quiz

I have some questions that have more than one correct answer. When creating a quiz, I've noticed it's possible to mark more than one answer as being correct, but when a user takes the quiz, nothing happens when you click on one of the correct answers. You have to also click the other correct answers before showing the explanation and "continue" button. Is it possible to show the explanation and "continue" button immediately after user has selected one of the correct answers? I'm showing questions one at a time.

Hello,

When several answers are marked as correct then a user should select all of them in the questions to earn a point. It works as multiple answers question, not as a single answer question.
