Hello,

This hash is added to have ability differ images with the same name. For example if page contains /album1/image_01.jpg and /album2/image_02.jpg images, the lightbox will know what image should be opened based on hash before image name.

We can add an option to disable this hash in a future version of the plugin, but it will cause problems if a page will contain images with the same name from different folders.
