Gutenberg YouTube Videos and Lightbox Navigation
Posted by pyriphlegethon - 2020/01/03 19:01

_____

1. I have "Convert YouTube links" enabled. This only works with manual HTML links to YouTube. How can I get it to recognize the YouTube videos if they're added as Gutenberg blocks?
2. Then how do I navigate between all the photos and above-mentioned YouTube videos in my post? I have "Navigate Between Items" enabled but it only seems to navigate between the photos.

Above link is an example where I'd like to be able to navigate between the image and embedded YouTube video inside the lightbox.

Thank you kindly.

Something is up with that topic. Here's a whole new link:

Thanks for your patience. Let me know with the new link how I can click the first image to enter the lightbox, then use the arrow right key to see the YouTube video, then arrow right again to see the last photo. As you'll see, even with the "Convert YouTube links" checkbox enabled, the lightbox navigation doesn't work with videos embedded using the built-in Gutenberg blocks. Thank you.

It is expected behavior because YouTube video is embedded into the page, the plugin works with links to YouTube. It looks like:

I've previously tried manually adding the link via an HTML block like you suggest. If I click the link directly it opens the YouTube video in the lightbox, but the video still does not show up when navigating using arrow keys through the lightbox. I've updated the link so you can see. If I click the first photo and arrow through the rest, the photos on either side are shown but the video is skipped. Is there a way to get the "slideshow" style mode in the lightbox to see both the YouTube videos and photos as I step through them?

Thank you.
